WHEN a lot of women start out to no telling to what extremes they will go. In the Ladies' Home Journal for January Hon. STEPHEN FISKE tells how they acted when the Prince of Wales was in this country in 1860. He says:

they acted when the Prince of Wales was in this country in 1800. He says:

ANONTHO ATTENTIONS ROM WOMEN.
Buring the tour through Canada I had attributed the strange conduct of the -ladies to an excess of loyalty. As soon as the Prince had left a hotel they would rush into his rooms, seize all sorts of articles, from a furniture button to a solied towel, as sourceints, and even bottle up the water with which he had just washed his face. But in the lad just washed his face. But in the Linds States the women were equally circlous and sycophantic. The luggage of the Royal party was carried in small leather trunks—a trunk for every suit of clothes—and whenever the trains of these trunks—a trunk for every suit of clothes—and whenever the train of clothes—and whenever the train of clothes—and whenever the train of these trunks might be handed ont, and women would fondle and kiss them. I need not say that the trainmen were never too particular as to whose laggage was subjected to this adoration, and I have had the pleasure of sceing my own portmanteau kissed by mistake. I have had the pillow-silps and white cowerle were so solied by the pressure of hundreds of fingers that they had to be twice changed by the chambermaids. When he attended Church on Sunday the whole congregation rose as he departed, and climbed upon the seats to get a better view of him. With the close of the Presidential campaign The Tribune recognizes the fact that the American people are now anxious to give their attention to home and business interests. To meet this condition, politics will have far less space and prominence, until another state or National occasion demands a renewal of the fight for the principles for which The Tribune has labored from its inception to the present day and won its greatest victories.

Every possible effort will be put forth and money freely spent to make The Weekly Tribune pre-eminently a National Family Newspeper, interesting, instructive, entertaining and indispensable to each member of the family.
